COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The town office will be closed Monday, May 29, in observance of Memorial Day.

Last Monday the bid for the Sewage Disposal System was formally awarded to Bridge Construction Company of Augusta. They anticipate construction to start in approximately three weeks.

Several have contacted the office for employment on the sewer project but we do not have control over that aspect of the project. We were told, by the contractor, that unless a person was a skilled workman it would not accomplish anything to contact them prior to their superintendent arriving here. At that time a person could go to his field office and apply.

On a comparative basis with other communities that have sewage disposal systems constructed we will not have a lot of streets disrupted but we know there will be some trenching done that will inconvenience motorists as well as people living on the streets. The contractors will try to keep this to a minimum. It will be impossible to eliminate altogether as he must have a certain amount of equipment on the streets.

RETIRING TEACHERS HONORED AT ANNUAL BANQUET OF S. A. D. 44 EDUCATION ASSN.

The M. S. A. D. 44 Education Association held its annual banquet at the Madison in Rumford last Friday evening for teachers retiring in District 44. Mrs. Marie Lang, Miss Florence Hall, Andover Elementary School; Mrs. Melva Willard, Locke Mills Elementary School, and Mrs. Lettie Brooks, Woodstock Elementary School, were presented stainless steel fruit bowls by the Association. Allyn Emens, who was not present, received a gift certificate. About 45 people were present to wish them a pleasant retirement.

AN APOLOGY

Due to an unexpected volume of late arriving advertisements and other contributions, some material had to be omitted. An effort will be made to include it in a future edition.

GROUND BROKEN AND CONTRACT AWARDED FOR WASTE DISPOSAL PROJECT

Ground breaking ceremonies and contract award for the town of Bethel waste disposal project took place Monday afternoon of this week.

Attending this dedication were State Director Mahlon M. DeLong of the Farmers Home Administration and representatives of his staff and representatives of the Environmental Improvement Commission, Bridge Construction Company and the Edward C. Jordan Company.

F.H.A.'s participation in this project is a $225,000 loan and a $40,000 grant. Other Federal and State participation amounts to $530,000 from the Environmental Protection Agency and the State of Maine.

This system will serve 280 families and 61 commercial establishments. The town of Bethel must install pollution control facilities to meet State and Federal water quality standards. In addition, the collection system must be improved and extended to avoid potential public health hazards.

The Farmers Home Administration loan will be repaid in 30 years at an interest rate of five percent.

The South Paris office of the F. H. A. will service this project and Elwyn R. Morrow is the County Supervisor.

EDUCATION ASSOCIATION SAYS S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS REJECT COMPROMISE IN NEGOTIATIONS

The Board of Directors of S. A. D. 44 has rejected compromise as a way of settling the contract dispute with the Education Association, according to an association spokesman.

"Teachers are willing to accept the report of the Fact Finders Panel—both the items that are in our favor and the items that go against us," Mrs. Caroline V. Gould, president of the S. A. D. 44 Education Association said. "The Board wants to pick and choose—just taking the items they like and turning down the rest."

"We had a board of qualified, outside people in to look at our asked for, but that is the nature of the negotiating process. We had hoped that after two years of negotiations, the board had come to understand this."

PLANS BEING FORMULATED FOR MOLLYCKETT DAY — TO BE HELD JULY 22

Has your organization or club had its last meeting? Have you decided what YOU will do for Mollyckett Day? Any group or individual who wishes to participate still has time to join in the fun.

Plans are in progress for the best "soap box" cars made by boys (7-14) and a doll contest for the girls. More about this later.

Already there is a "moon bounce" for amusement, cotton candy, fancy work, cake sale and candy booth. The Health Council is planning a delicious supper that evening.

Individuals are encouraged to display and sell their wares: paintings, crafts, etc.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Mrs. Olive Davis, Corras.

Mrs. Wendell Twitchell was sent to Detroit, Mich., by the Rumford School Dept. where she attended the International Reading Convention from May 9th to the 13th. Mrs. Twitchell is the Head teacher at "Spearhead," a program for young people who have learning disabilities. She has also been serving as a team teacher or instructor for an Extension Course in Reading offered by the U. of M. at Farmington. As a team teacher she taught the concepts and training of pupils with visual and auditory perception problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis went to Portland Tuesday with Everard Buxton.

The four-point Grange meeting was well attended Monday evening when 79 joined in a 6:30 supper and meeting. Winthrop Grange, Sebaste, N. H., filled the chairs in a very able manner. Round Mt.

carried out the program. Warren Harding was the speaker from Social Security Dept., Lewiston, which was very interesting.

Ellis Davis presented 25 year certificates to Harriet Estes; 50 year certificates to J. Everett Howe, Annie Mills and Eva Mills. Alice Hoyt also received her 25 year certificate but had to go home before the presentation for which we were sorry.

The next four point meeting will be held June 19 with Round Mountain. Franklin Grange will hold the chairs. Pleasant Valley puts on the program and Winthrop is the visitor for that evening. A 6:30 supper will be served by the host Grange.

Mr. and Mrs. Guyson Davis had Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nowlin and two children, Deanne and Darwin, and Mrs. Roger Tibbetts with Jackie and Neil, spend the afternoon Saturday with them.

Mrs. Mary Brown of Livermore is making a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Guyson Davis. Mrs. Davis will have a vacation from her work while Mrs. Brown is with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Waino Heikkinen, West Paris were at their camp on North Pond Sunday.

Neighbors and friends attended the funeral of William Strout Friday afternoon at the Andrews Funeral Parlor. Mr. Strout lived in South Woodstock for many years before moving to Bryant Pond. We were sorry to hear of his passing. We wish to express our sympathy to his family.

Percy Jefferson is doing extended repairs on his cottage on North Pond. At present he is putting lattice work under the porch area.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis were at camp Sunday for a while.

The Baltimore Oriole, kingbird, Bob-o-links and thrush have arrived. I saw a towhee in the woods this morning, also. The warblers are around. I've seen the chestnut sided, Maryland yellow throat, Black and white, Myrtle warblers and the goldfinch. The Crested fly catcher is making himself known with his loud noise, also the brown thrasher.

Craig Morgan was graduated from the Atlantic Union College the week of May 12 at South Lancaster, Mass. He received the Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education and was awarded departmental honors. He also graduated Cum Laude. Craig has been attending Atlantic Union College for the past four years and will be teaching at the Seventh Day Adventist Church School in South Woodstock this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Morgan, Wendy and Zella Silver attended the graduation exercises at Atlantic Union College this past week end.

Jeffrey Twitchell, who is attending U. of M. Farmington, received the Chemical Rubber Co. award in Chemistry May 10. It was presented by Dr. James A. McDaniel at the U. M. F. Honors Convocation.

As this will be my last column,

BATH MAN IN COURT ON CASES INVOLVING BETHEL MEN

It has been reported that Martin G. Finley, 23, of Bath, appeared in Rumford District Court on May 18 on a charge of aggravated assault on Kate Trooper Haven Hinckson of West Paris. It was also alleged that he had threatened the lives of Albert Kimball and Harry Kimball of Bethel with a dangerous weapon. He posted bonds of $1,000 on the aggravated assault charge and $500 each on the other charges, and the case was continued to May 22.

S.A.D. 41 EDUCATION ASSN.
INFER DIRECTORS INCAPABLE OF COMPROMISE

represent the problem as one of big salary increases that are out of line problem." Mrs. Gould said, "and we'll take their findings in the interests of having this thing settled.
We're not getting everything we for the towns in the district." Mrs.
Gould said. The fact finders recommended as "a fair solution" a salary scale that starts at $6,000 which is a $200 increase over last year.
They said this takes into account both inflation and the economic ability of the district.

Mrs. Gould said that the Education Association has repeatedly pointed out in negotiations sessions that this increase would make a minimum impact on the total salary budget because several teachers who were on the upper levels of the salary scale are retiring. They are being replaced by first and second year teachers, who because they have less experience, will get less money.

"We regret the loss of these experienced teachers because we feel that their kind of skill is hard to replace," the Association spokesman continued "but in cold dollars and cents their retirement means more money in the salary account. The Board has not been willing to acknowledge this to the S.A.D. 41 voters.
It is strictly a phony issue to talk about big tax increases for salaries."

The teachers also want to point out, Mrs. Gould said, that they have agreed to the fact finders' rejection of their request for an increase in health insurance coverage. The fact finders said they had excluded this request because of financial benefits granted in other sections. "Now the Board expects the teachers to lose twice," Mrs. Gould said.

The action of the Board on the sick leave policies indicates an all-or-nothing attitude, according to the spokesman. Four items relating to sick leave went before the panel which awarded two to the teachers and two to the Board. The Board is now refusing to accept the proposal for a sick leave bank, which would enable teachers to pool their available sick leave to help each other out in difficult situations. This despite the fact that the number of days to be drawn from the pool would be limited to 30 and the administration of the pool would be under the jurisdiction of the Directors.

The fact finders, who met March 24, were the chairman and member, Senator Kenneth P. Mac-Leod, Brewer, president of the State Senate; Bruce J. Saunders, a West brook lawyer who represented the Board; and Eldon Hebert, Rumford, who represented the Education Association.

7TH INNING RALLY WINS FOR MESSALONKEE OVER TELSTAR

Telstar learned how quickly a 4-1 lead can evaporate, falling prey to a last inning four run rally by Messalonskee that enabled them to squeak by Telstar 5-4 in a Friday baseball contest. Messalonskee loaded the bases in the bottom of the seventh and Tom Blanchette responded with a double, scoring three runs.

With Telstar struggling, Messalons-kee loaded the bases again, and this time a single provided the run and the game for Messalonskee.

POSTER CONTEST WINNERS — Patterson, Douglas Webster and Scott Wight. Back row: first prize, Marie Saunders, second prize, Nancy Morin. Prizes will be awarded during the Memorial Day exercises on Monday.

THREE GOULD SENIORS — 120 MILES IN 14 DAYS — Left to right: Kit Shugrue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Shugrue, Briarcliff Manor, N. Y.; Matt Stowell, son of Lonsdale Stowell, New York City, and Mrs. Joan Cyrus, Southport, Conn.; Jim Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Thomas Austin, Bloomfield Hills, Mich.

Starting at Mt. Greylock near North Adams, Mass., these three began a senior May project hiking through the Presidential Range, etc. They hiked through Vermont until the Appalachian Trail branched off at Sherburne Pass where they turned east and hiked into Franconia. The first five days out meant waist-deep snow, rain, hail, — Arctic camping conditions. Sometimes in order to make any progress, the boys had to leave the trail and take to the road. On the first two days they only made about five or six miles. They missed two meals, much wind to use the stores.

One of their encounters was on Mountaineer — elevation 3,240 feet, to go over it and down the other side, they met snow and ice. They had to back-track their own trail 22 miles of hiking only to come back to the same place.

At one point, they were warned about bear, but didn't meet one. They did see white-tail deer and rabbits.

The boys have abandoned the Presidential Range—too much for hiking, and have returned to Gould for provisions. The final of their trip will be the length of the Mahoosuc Range—a trip of eight days.

Miss Rebecca Brown and Miss Barbara Beckwith, East Northport, L. I., N. Y., are spending several days guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown, before returning to Farmington for their summer employment.

The last W. S. C. S. meeting of the season will be held at the Jesse Doyen camp at Songo Pond Thursday, June 1. Final plans for the opening of the Friday Gift Shop will be made. The Friday Gift Shop will open June 16 at the Methodist Church Annex. Dorothy Abbott will have the program for this meeting.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corras. —
There might now richness is added to the world around us. The new land blends in the dawn are beautiful.

The mirror of the water reflects the sky, the clouds, and the various greens of the leaves.

"A scrap of sunset with a voice" has called all week. "Oh, here here; see me here." This lovely Baltimore Oriole has arrived. His mate has gathered string from beside my house to make her dangling Christmas stocking some where near by.

Clear songs of the morning come to us early. Each year they seem to be a surprise for when we hear them we think of them as a dream from out of the past.

Among these bird songs of morning, four of us set out for Patch Mountain and Furlong Pond.

A faint cool breeze stirred the leaves and there was no sun when we took the old road.

Our first greeting came from the green bird, "Teacher teacher" from above while at our feet wake robin paws, self assertive, with no lack of confidence as it flaunted its lurid patch. Although lovely to look at its color is most unpleasant.

The bell flowers were thick along the roadside and it seemed as if these nodding bells should tinkle and warn the other flowers of our entrance into their grassy host.

We moved on through the silent sedation of the green hills where we called called.

The forest floor everywhere along the way was soft, rich, and spry. A few mushrooms the road was much to much on, urging us to step lightly or not at all.

And bluish haze rested among the giant granite boulders that edged the road.

Some walls were everywhere marking the old farms and pastures telling of a time that we all know is gone. I especially enjoyed the fine chiselings of different sections into the past as given by the preservation of the group. He was familiar with the lines, old cellar doors, old houses, and old lots which added interest as we progressed.

The little stepmilk came to greet us from the damp and deeply peeling sidewalks.

The gnarled old apple trees spoke of other days.

Here for a time we were free from the mechanical din of roads. It was a place to catch the sun and wind.

At last we turned left toward Furlong Pond. The trees grew thick along the roadside. High on one side the tall, slender white birches, perfectly standing in a bed of pine needles. Its green, though quiet, to look and share.

The camp on the shore of the pond lay in the wilderness looked like an oasis.

Behind on the knolls we discovered the glacial recognition of our going time. The Mayflowers. They ran here and there crowded together. We watched their extraordinary awareness on the light breeze and traced the delicate fragrance. We looked closely among the old flowers, found a long here and there some in glorious pink dress were absolutely lovely. We picked a few and left many.

The clouds were a bit heavy about the pond as we turned toward home.

With all about us sang their loud quacks of delight.

The waters of the little brook flowed and added down to the valley with little darts or waves to the grass by or caught on the banks they danced, dipped, then ran with the water. We pretended we'd return to this same day.

We did not come to us through a misty, falling landscape and always laughing.

After leaving home I sat for a time and listened to my thoughts I recalled the buildings and places of those earliest settlers. I especially thought of the Thomas Furlongs and the William Yates family who were first there. From the "Yates Book" I looked up the picture of William Yates and some of his family. A paragraph from that book reads as follows.

Here, then, with his wife and four children, the oldest a boy of six and the youngest an infant, William Yates began in the unbroken wilderness a clearing that was to become the great farm on which he passed the rest of a long and useful life. On the broad eastern slope of a great hill afterward called Patch Mountain, for miles to the east his new home looked over an unbroken forest. A half dozen miles below him in Norway there were some dozens of families. . . To the east in the town of Woodstock, the first family had come in 1708; to the north there were no settlers nearer than Bethel, 10 miles distance; to the west stretched the forest-clad mountains of Albany. Greenwood had before remained unsettled because as Isaac P. Noyes said, "the cursed town is so hilly that you can't leave a cart anywhere in it without triggering a wheel".

It was nice to have visited the land of Greenwood's beginning and like its beginning it is now returning to a forest land once more.

Mrs. Franze Mills, Shapleigh, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan on Tuesday.

Doris Hayes and Colista Morgan joined other retired teachers for a trip to Westbrook where they had dinner at the Paddock on Friday evening.

Mary Mills, Locke Mills, visited Colista Morgan on Thursday afternoon and they liked to the old Garland place on Noyes Mountain.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan and Mrs. Franze Mills were at Mr. and Mrs. Guy Emery's, Woodstock, on Tuesday.

Mrs. Clyde Morgan attended the Retired Teachers' Club at South Paris Saturday.

Richard Hayes entered the hospital in Waterville on Sunday for eye surgery on May 24.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Homans were at their cottage for a few days last week.

Sherry Millett celebrated her 10th birthday with a party at her home on Thursday.

Katherine Hinkala has visited Brenda Mason at the Stephens Memorial Hospital several times this week.

Jean Millett and children and Katherine Hinkala, Karen and Tim, were to Lewiston to the Y W C A on Sunday where they joined the Brownie Scouts for a splash party at the pool.

Visitors this week at Mr. and Mrs. Norman Millett's were: Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Oldham, West Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Lawrence, Jones and Jeffery Coffin, Albert Silver, Charles Coffin, West Paris, Tel Olson, Bryant Pond.

John Betts, Massachusetts, was at the Indian camp here for the week end.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to say thank you to all my friends and relatives for the lovely birthday cake, cards and gifts. Also for the get well wishes, telephone calls, transportation to and from the hospital. All were so very much appreciated.

CONTRACTS

The contract system was used in the Chem Study program at Telstar this year. Chem Study is one of the more challenging science programs at Telstar. It is intended for college bound students, and goes into some areas of theory rather deeply, in areas that might seem irrelevant to those who aren't science-oriented. Interest waned early in the year, during the first quarter. Mr. Fiske introduced contracts. In a contract, a student agrees to do a predetermined amount of work for a grade. He can sign up for an A or B group contract, or an A, B, or C individual contract. If the contract isn't completed in the allotted time, the student receives an F. In cases of illness, the contract may be extended.

In a typical Chem Study contract, the student is to read and know the chapters, answer problems and questions concerning the chapters, do various experiments, do some outside reading, and do one or more "do-your-own-things" which have included such things as writing a chapter text for the class to take, making bumper stickers, chemistry, crossword puzzles or posters, and arranging field trips.

It seems to work pretty well. After the first contract, the class voted to continue the contract system, though it means more work for both students and the teacher.

The contract system is great for people with motivation and has helped most to become motivated, but perhaps one of its weak points is in interesting the few students who have no motivation or initiative.

Students in the class have learned that chemistry can be more than just a course you have to take for college. It can also be fun.

CARD OF THANKS

We extend our thanks to our neighbors and friends for their cards and words of sympathy on the loss of our daughter and granddaughter Sandra Elisabeth, May 11, 1972, at East Hartford, Conn.

In a typical Chem Study contract, the student is to read and know the chapters, answer problems and questions concerning the chapters, do various experiments, do some outside reading, and do one or more "do-your-own-things" which have included such things as writing a chapter text for the class to take, making bumper stickers, chemistry, crossword puzzles or posters, and arranging field trips.

It seems to work pretty well. After the first contract, the class voted to continue the contract system, though it means more work for both students and the teacher.

The contract system is great for people with motivation and has helped most to become motivated, but perhaps one of its weak points is in interesting the few students who have no motivation or initiative.

Students in the class have learned that chemistry can be more than just a course you have to take for college. It can also be fun.

CONTRACTS

The contract system was used in the Chem Study program at Telstar this year. Chem Study is one of the more challenging science programs at Telstar. It is intended for college bound students, and goes into some areas of theory rather deeply, in areas that might seem irrelevant to those who aren't science-oriented. Interest waned early in the year, during the first quarter. Mr. Fiske introduced contracts. In a contract, a student agrees to do a predetermined amount of work for a grade. He can sign up for an A or B group contract, or an A, B, or C individual contract. If the contract isn't completed in the allotted time, the student receives an F. In cases of illness, the contract may be extended.

Clean-up Day in Andover — The combined project for the Calvary Congregational Church and the Congregational Church for May 20 was a clean up of litter along the highways. The Calvary Congregational Church bus was busy all day transporting youngsters and dropping them off at various places. The state gave the group 529 plastic bags but this was not enough, approximately 550 were filled. Route 5 from the Town Line to Andover Wood products; the mile square; to Harold Falkenhams on the East B Hill Road; and from the village square all the way to the town line on the East Andover road were cleaned. Adults working were Rev. Lester Street, Mr. and Mrs. Robert MacKenney, Harold Falkenhams, Brandon Falkenhams, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hutchins, Alice Senneit, and Rev. and Mrs. Jay Cummings. A special thanks goes to Rexford Powers who did all the picking up with the state truck. Youngsters from nine to 11 turned out for the all day project. They later gathered for a cook out at the picnic area. The day was not long enough to do the North Andover route or Route 120 to the Town Line. It is hoped that this can be done another day or some evening.

Thanks to the following youngsters who worked hard all day to clean up after thoughtless people who throw bottles, cans and paper along the roadsides: Timmy Hall; Grant, Garth and Glen Conrad; Scott and Mark Farrington; Butch Glover; Robbie and Rachael Farrington; Susie and Mindy Adler; Kathy and Dominic Bailey; Danny and Daryl Wells; Bobby Richardson; Randy, Patty Rickards; Larry White; Vincent Meisner; Laura Jones, Belinda Briggs, Dana Meisner, Mike Myshall, Jerry Deans, Warren Palmer, Carol Conrad; Hank, Dicky, John, Kenny, Dorothy and Linda Morton; Dave Richardson, Billy Gill, Danny Cox, Debbie Meisner, Debbie Briggs, Rhonda Palmer, Sandra Cox, Jodi Deans, Cheryl Morton, Mindy McElmurry, Tina and Mark Hutchins; Mona Roberts, Peter Poor, Kathie and Karen Senneit, David Philbrick, Gary Clement, and Karen Swan.
